Haymond Law Saves Rider of the Road Often Travelled.

67 year old Dominic was taking his weekly Sunday ride with his two close friends. He and his companions had ridden this road almost every week since they had left the Army and knew every turn and twist on the old country route. Today, However, the routine journey would be shattered as a woman suddenly pulled out from a parking lot on his left right in front of him. Dominic Struck the rear portion of the sedan. His friend jumped into action and got him stabilized and into the ambulance and fortunately he survived but suffered a variety of orthopedic injuries that required extensive care.

As the bills started to pile up, things got worse when the woman's insurance company claimed that he was at fault for the collision, Saying that he had rear ended their client. That's when he called the Haymond Law Firm. Attorneys and investigators for the firm interviewed eye witnesses and studied accident photos. Through their hard work and diligence, they were able to prove that the motorcyclist was in no way at fault. It was, instead, the operator of the automobile that was solely to blame. After seeing the case prepared by the Haymond Law Firm, The Insurance company would resolve the claim for $350,000.
